The
ingredients
in our
recipes
come from the earth
and the oven.

They come from interfering
and letting be.

We use local and
natural ingredients
wherever possible, and our recipes are blissfully inefficient.

We pay premium prices for grains, herbs, spices and fruits. For us, brewing is not about automation, but passion and
imagination.

We wrap our hands
around our work because we are proud to make something with our own hands.

We hope you enjoy drinking Dogfish Head Craft Brewed Ales as much as we enjoy making them.
